

Endura Stealth II jacket

£169.99

I was 'lucky' enough to have heavy rain and a well below freezing commute to test this jacket properly.

Thankfully, it performed superbly — fully taped seams, an effectively breathable fabric and good ventilation options coupled with a fit that allows a flexible degree of base layer/jersey options all contribute to making the jacket perform well in winter weather. I was glad of the snug but unrestrictive neck fit when combined with a neck warmer, and the zip closure cuffs allow for a closer fit, and again the flexible material gives a great feeling of movement and comfort.

The extra touches of rear zipper pockets, rear light mount and reflective detailing along with the bold green colour all add to an ideal multi-purpose winter jacket in temperatures below 10°C or so. JC
