

Endura Masai Glasses £80

★★★★★

(1) Photochromic lenses adapt to varying light conditions, with the orange tint boosting contrast in cloudy, flat light. Vented lenses mean when they do mist up – which is rarely – they clear very quickly. That said, the tint doesn't clear completely in very low light conditions, where clear lenses would work better.

The moulded rubber nosepiece and temple tips have kept the glasses in place on my relatively narrow face down some technical rocky descents.

I personally don't need prescription lenses, but it's handy to know the Masai are prescription lens holder compatible.
www.endurasport.com