

ENDURA

PRO SL MITT BLACK

► WHAT THEY SAY: Sleek and minimalist 'must-have' for the devoted road aficionado.

► WHAT WE SAY: These offer no padding on the palms whatsoever. Why? Well, the downside of having added padding on your palms is that you lose road feel and if you're already riding a bike that's set up for comfort, then missing out on even more feedback can be problematic. So these are a more streamlined alternative that still eliminates sweat while enhancing grip. Made from a four-way stretch fabric using Endura's Coldblack tech, heat is easily dissipated with these despite the colour, while offering SPF50 protection from the sun's UV rays. Available in sizes XS-XXXL.

VERDICT

Pricey perhaps, but if you're looking for better road feel, then these are perfect.
