

Endura Baa Baa Merino

SO GOOD... The Baa Baa is a great all-rounder, keeping the chill out on colder days and regulating temperature well on milder days. The 100 per cent merino wool construction is soft against the skin and does a good job of keeping you warm even when sodden with sweat. The flat-lock seams and printed (rather than sewn-in) label further boost comfort. It's long enough to tuck in and it can also be worn a couple of times before it starts to smell.

NO GOOD... Although Endura say the Baa Baa offers an athletic fit, we found the looser-fitting sleeves could bunch up a little under tighter jerseys.
