

Endura MT500 Burner II jersey

£37.99 Endura www.endura.co.uk

THE BURNER II feels a little thicker and more robust than similar jerseys from other brands but it's still very comfortable against the skin.

The toughened stretch fabric on the sleeves means it'll take some abuse if things don't quite go to plan, but on warmer days these panels do contribute to things heating up pretty quickly. Luckily the jersey wicks sweat fairly effectively, which helps when the sun is shining.

Though the fit is relatively loose – you'll fit a pair of slim elbow pads underneath it without any issues – the length of the sleeves and body is spot on. Endura have kept the styling subtle too, which we're sure many riders will appreciate. ROB
