

5 ENDURA FS260-PRO III, £59.99,
endurasport.com

After three washes, the Endura jersey still looks shop fresh, which is no mean feat for any jersey with white panels. There's a high Lycra content in the FS260-Pro (29% compared to a more typical 14%), which helps to keep the jersey snug against the skin, although it doesn't have the racy compression of the Rapha or dnb. By clinging to the skin, the Endura performs well when it comes to wicking away sweat, while broad mesh panels boost the breathability – just remember to wear sunscreen below the mesh. An excellent, full hem gripper keeps the jersey in place. Indeed, there's no sense of skimping with the FS260-Pro III with generous reflective details and a very spacious zipped, fourth pocket, ideal if your phone is of the outsize variety.

Verdict: Look forward to years of great service from this jersey.

Rating: ■■■■■■■■■■ □ □