

3 ENDURA HYPERON JERSEY, £42.99,

A host of small details make the Hyperon a pleasure to wear, from the excellent sleeves with grippers to keep them in place, to a spacious zipped pocket big enough for a phone, to the super-stretchy underarm mesh panels that deliver superb breathability. The principle fabric is wonderfully smooth against the skin, stretches so well that it doesn't ride up (helped by a sticky gripper hem), and would be comfortable throughout the summer. It is, however, so generously cut around the stomach and waist that it billowed on me, so it's definitely worth trying before buying to make sure you get the right size.
