

Endura FS260 Pro SL £99.99

Endura has taken a customised approach to bibshorts with the FS260 Pro SL. Available not only in both regular and long-leg versions, the Scottish company also offers three different pad widths to create the ultimate personalised short. Endura labels these shorts as 'love at first sit' and they do offer an impressive fit.

The bib straps feel luxuriously thick and soft with a mesh section at the belly for comfort. Endura produces the FS260 with Power Lycra to enhance muscle compression and incorporate ColdBlack technology into the design to reduce the chances of overheating.

Obviously the seatpad is incredibly important for ride performance and here Endura has created a winner. Getting measured is an easy process and leaves you set up with the perfect pad for your body shape. The only minor gripe was the instruction label that irritated my lower back — a quick attack with the scissors and the problem was gone.
