Endura Wms Pro DS $\frac{3}{4}$ -length bib tights £84.99

Endura's newest bib knickers are a revelation for those unschooled in the phenomenon of the 'drop-seat'. For women who like the added comfort and security of a high-backed bib, going to the toilet usually involves undressing – not ideal when out on the trail. The drop-seat system consists of a zip that runs from the top of the right leg over to the left, about 3in above the chamois. This can be undone and the seat of the shorts flipped forwards at the call of nature. Elsewhere, the Endura bibs play true to form with comfy seams, silicone grippers on the legs, a cool mesh upper and a streamlined, stretchy antibacterial pad that's one of the best we've had the pleasure of sitting on. Rachael
