

Endura DH Shorts

£59.99 Endura www.endura.co.uk

Endura's simple but effective baggies are a good option for the downhill and freeride fraternity and went down well out on the test ride.

The Enduras are made from a combination of tough yet breathable Oxford Canvas which can handle a pasting, while the size allows plenty of room for any pads. The ribbed stretch panels helping them fit like a glove. The pockets aren't too deep and the double-popper closure feels nice and secure. The lining feels really comfortable and our only gripe was that there weren't more choices in terms of design, but other than that they proved well worth the cash.
