

Endura FS260-Pro Adrenaline Race Cape £59.99

■ Sizes: XS-XXL ■ Colours: black, white, green

Packing down to around the size of a tennis ball, this jacket is absolutely perfect for stowing away in a jersey pocket on those iffy days. As its name suggests, the cut is very much designed for racing types, offering a snug fit with a decent amount of rear coverage when riding low on the drops.

Lightweight and pared down to the absolute minimum, there are still a few welcome touches such as the soft material around the snug-fitting neck, taped seams as well as a few reflective accents to improve visibility at night. Other than superb portability and a surprising level of breathability, what impressed us most about this jacket was its water resistance despite its low weight. It's perhaps not ideal for a long training ride in heavy rain, but for racing or sportives, pretty much perfect.

Contact: www.endurasport.com

Packs down very small

Adequate arm length