

ENDURA WMS XTRACT

Available in three colours, one so very pink it will make your eyes bleed, the others slightly less violent, this is a budget-oriented jacket, designed to be a waterproof emergency option in times of torrential rain. It's light and easily packable, and features some good rear venting, yet still tends to get on the clammy side against the skin when you're working hard. The simple elasticated cuffs, neck and hem work just fine and the reflectivity and drawstring bag are nice features.
