

ENDURA RACE CAPE II

£79.99 The Adrenaline Race Cape II is extremely comfortable to ride in – we barely noticed it was there – and, in sustained torrential rain and strong winds, it performed rather well. With taped seams to prevent water ingress, only our arms were wet, but not through to the base layer and the rest was dry. The silicone hem gripper keeps the jacket in place and, with the soft, snug collar, helps to remain warm throughout the ride. While it has no pockets, it packs away neatly into its own small bag, and is the lightest on test, easily fitting into a rear jersey pocket. It has highly reflective markings visible from a long distance at the neck, along the hem, cuffs and the front zip. Overall, it's a lovely looking jacket in a close but flattering fit. endurasport.com
