

Endura MT500 II £229.99

Endura's MT500 jacket has a firm fanbase and the latest mark II version, with its refined fit and updated material, is destined to build on that. First, that fit – slim (but not skinny) through the body, it retains a lot of room in the shoulders for easy movement. Combined with the super-long back, this gives the reassuring, protective-but-not-intrusive coverage we've come to expect from Endura. Packed full of features, including an over-helmet hood (with adjustment that maintains peripheral vision), long front vents/pockets, lift pass and inner pockets, a heavy-duty tail and double-ended pit zips, this jacket has been designed with serious intent. The fabric has an improved durability rating and features a PFC-free DWR finish, while the three-layer construction wicks and breathes well. www.endurasport.com
