

ENDURA EQUIPE COMPACT SHELL

★★★★★ £64.99

Pockets 1

Endura has a reputation for high quality, well-priced products offering impressive protection from the elements, and its Compact

Shell fully lives up to that. It offers a great fit for slimmer cyclists, reflective elements for night-riding safety, decent levels of water resistance and very good windproofing. It lacks the venting of some jackets on test, which contributes to not-quite-as-impressive breathability, but as a shell for when you need extra protection from the weather, it does a fine job for the money. It packs down well, too, and even shrugged off a hail shower during testing.
